

Soft Delta Meditation

50min

Introduction

Meditation can help you to comprehend life, to have a complete view of the universe. Meditation is listening to god, is experimenting by yourself the mysteries of the universe that are forbidden. Learning to meditate means to learn to listen to the universe.

Description

Meditating periodically induce our brain to change notably. It can heal itself, liberate stress and tensions. It produce happiness, peace of mind, wisdom, temperance, patience, measure, and a lot more benefits.

This is a binaural sound of mental training category, this means that its effects are cumulative. The periodic use of this sound causes the brain waves to vibrate at the desired frequency even without the existence of the sound. In other words, it makes the effect last not only for the moment of listening to the audio but will also be produced naturally by our brain.

How to use it

This sound can be used at any time you consider necessary. For it to have a better effect, you must be comfortable and focused only on the sound, in a place where you feel comfortable and without distractions.

Make sure that you are not going to be disturbed during the audio session. Go to the toilet, drink water if you need to and assure that you have no pending things to do while you are listening to the audio therapy.

When the therapy starts, close your eyes and relax. Your eyes must be closed even if you are using led goggles. During the session you must be as relaxed as possible, any worry that you might have may interfere with the pattern of brain waves of the sound and decrease or even null the desired results.

This session requires the use of headphones. It is very important to use your headphones in the right way, always using the right channel for the right ear and the left channel for the left ear. This is because the audio might have information for the right hemisphere of the brain or for the left hemisphere in each channel.

Turn the volume to a comfortable level. If you are using led goggles you may also want to adjust the brightness.

Remember, it is highly recommended to drink a glass of water before each session, especially if you are using led goggles.

Basic meditation guide

- Create a quiet and relaxing atmosphere. Turn off all electrical devices that may distract you. Make sure to turn off your mobile phone too or put it in silence mode to avoid distractions.
- Sit on a chair or on a cushion. It's not necessary to bend your legs to adopt Ancient meditative positions like the lotus position, but you can do it if you want to. The most important thing is to maintain your back straight and your spine in it's natural position.
- Make sure that you are seating correctly, so that you can breathe without any difficulties. This will happen naturally if your knees are above the level of the waist. It's not recommended to lie down completely because you will probably fall asleep.
- Relax every muscle in your body. Don't rush this process, it takes time to relax completely and we should do it little by little. Start with your feets and go up until you reach the head, always breathing, slowly and controlled.
- Your eyes can be closed or opened. If you choose to let them opened choose a relaxing object to look at, like a flame of a candle.
- Choose an object of meditation, an object you'll be focused in. A common object to choose is our breathing. Focus your attention in how the air goes in and out into your nasal passages. Concentrate in how the air is flowing into your nose, in and out, slowly and controlled. Try to maintain a rhythm.
- If you are stormed by thoughts, turn your attention back to your breathing, feeling the flow of the air into the nasal passages, just like you were doing before. Perform this process in a natural way, never try to push away thoughts, let them flow naturally. Your mind will reduce the amount of thoughts little by little until you accomplish to have more space between them, accomplishing also a state of peace, relax and calmness.
